Family Ministries' educational programs are available for children and youth who have serious emotional or behavioral problems and/or academic deficits that prevent them from functioning successfully in a public school setting. A comprehensive psycho-educational assessment is completed and serves as the basis for the development of an individualized educational plan. In addition, counseling services and psychiatric services are provided for the student. Class size is small and allows ample one to one instruction opportunities. Experiential activities are integrated into the academic schedule. GED instruction is also available. Upon discharge, academic credits are transferred to the appropriate school to ensure the youth does not fall behind in academic placement.
